

Make.Noise is coming and we need your help!

The Make.Noise Festival will be held at Coburg North Primary School on Saturday, October 28 from 3-9pm.

Now in its second year, the festival celebrates the musical and artistic talent within the school community and will feature a fantastic line up of bands and other acts, as well as craft workshops, stalls and children's activities. To find out more about what will be happening on the day, check out the festival's Facebook page at facebook.com/makenoisefestival/ or follow the blog at makenoisefestival.wordpress.com. Last year, the festival raised $8000 for the school and to match, or hopefully better, this amount, we need your help.

The fundraising component of the festival is primarily centred on food and drink sales and we are looking for volunteers for two-hour shifts throughout the day, or to help with food preparation the day before. There will also be some volunteers required to help with running workshops.

Please complete the form with your preferred availability and return to school by September 22. If you have any questions about volunteering for the festival, please speak to Tamara Heath (mother of Ada in Grade 4 and Camille in Grade 2) or Jackie Hanson (mother of Charlie in Grade 2) or email cnps_pf@hotmail.com
